girls' and women's guide to a GREAT UNIFORM FIT

ORDER THE RIGHT SIZE, FIRST TRY.

1. Kids grow fast, so measure your child every time you buy.
2. Remove bulky or heavy layers before measuring.
3. Begin with height, it's the best indicator to determine a child's size.
4. After height, a child's weight and/or waist measurement is the best gauge if your child needs an extended size (slim or plus).

HOW DO I KNOW IF MY CHILD NEEDS AN EXTENDED SIZE?

1. If you normally buy her a size 12 to fit her waist, but the inseam is always too long, she may need a 10 Plus (10+). Here's why: a 10+ will give her extra room around her waist, yet has a shorter inseam, for a better overall fit in the waist and length.
2. If you normally buy her a size 12 to fit her waist, but the inseam is always too short, she may need a 14 Slim (14S). Here's why: a 14S is slimmer through the waist, yet has a longer inseam, for a better overall fit in waist and length.

To measure accurately, keep the tape measure taut, but don't pull it tight. Get a friend to help, if possible. Measure over well-fitting undergarments.

BUST/CHEST: measure around fullest part of chest, keeping tape parallel to the floor.

ARM: with hand on hip, measure from center back at neck, across shoulder, elbow, down to wrist bone.

WAIST: bend to side; measure where body curves – even if you wear your pants lower.

HIPS: with feet shoulder width apart, measure fullest part of hip/thigh area.

INSEAM: measure inside leg seam of pants from crotch to hem.

Women's Regular, Petite, Tall or 18W-26W?

Regular: hips slightly larger than bust.

Petite: shorter in the torso. Shorter sleeves and body, narrower shoulders.

Tall: long torsos. Body length up 1-1/2" and sleeve length up 1" from Regular.

Women's 18W-26W: proportioned for fuller figures. 18W is 2" larger in the bust, waist and hip than 18 regular. Arm girths are larger; shoulder widths narrower.

Men's Regular, Tall or Big?

Regular: hips and chest of equal girth.

Tall (or Long): long torso. Body of shirts is 1-1/2" to 2" longer than Regular. Coat sleeve and body length is 1-1/2" longer.

Big: average torso length, just larger overall. Pockets and other details increase in size for a pleasing proportion.
