DODGEVILLE, Wis., September 30, 2021 – Lands' End (NASDAQ: LE), a leading uni-channel retailer known for high quality apparel for the whole family and the home, announced a global companywide effort to support Breast Cancer Awareness Month and get employees involved through the Every Step of the Way Initiative.

Every Step of The Way will encourage employees and customers to get active and show their support for each other through activities like walking, running, hiking and biking in honor of loved ones, sharing support on virtual bulletin boards, or making a donation.

Lands' End will also be donating over $100,000 this year to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation \(BCRF\), UK-based Future Dreams, and Germany based Pink Ribbon Charities.

CEO Jerome Griffith, whose daughter Samantha was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2020, will lead the way and show support for both his Lands' End family and his personal family by summiting Mt. Kilimanjaro – the tallest mountain in Africa – from September 28th through October 5th.

“Lands' End has proudly supported the Breast Cancer Research Foundation for six years through a variety of internal and external efforts,” said Jerome Griffith, CEO, Lands' End. “This year, our annual campaign takes on a new meaning with the global company efforts in support of all of our individual loved ones.”

Through the Lands' End Comfort Fund, the charitable giving program of the organization, Lands' End has consistently supported this cause having donated a total of $396,000 to BCRF since 2015. This money has funded over 7,920 hours of research.

“We are so grateful for Lands' End's unflagging commitment to end breast cancer,” said BCRF President and CEO Myra Biblowit. “By partnering with BCRF, the highest-rated breast cancer organization in the country, Lands' End is undoubtedly making a tangible impact in advancing the world's most promising research—improving outcomes and saving lives.”
